

EXHIBIT A

Your Honor,

Let me first begin by apologizing to the people that are involved in this case, the Courts, my family, and to the people in this world who care so deeply about me. I've taken for granted many people and many things in my life. I've stolen Love, trust, peace of mind from my family, caused many sleepless nights among them, stolen the sense of self and security of those involved in this matter and Freedom, Pride, and Self-esteem from my very own person.

I have fallen once again in my life and find myself at an all important crossroad. I no longer want to continue on the road I'm on nor be the root of the insanity that lies on it. I'm too young, have too much ahead of me, and much too tired of this lifestyle to let it continue, this chaos, in my life any longer. I've taken the initiative to pursue a new life of change by taking advantage of the opportunities while I have been in jail through the educational and life skills classes offered to me. I only wish that I had found them sooner. I am talking my problems and issues over with a counselor and I have been utilizing the Substance Abuse Program to begin the process of living a clean and sober life. I know change can only happen if I truly want it and with every passing day I feel myself yearning for change more and more. Someone once told me that failing is not in falling down but in staying down. I do not wish to remain down and only ask for the mercy and support of the court to continue in my recovery. I know that some consequences of my actions will follow me the rest of my life but with ongoing education, close proximity to my family and the desire to change, my life will have new meaning and purpose.

EXHIBIT B

12 December 2006

To Whom It May Concern,
Re: Travis Mock

Travis Mock is currently enrolled in the continuing education program, through the Santa Ana Community College, at the Santa Ana Jail, During the fall semester Mr. Mock was enrolled in, and successfully completed, all course requirements for Sociology 112, Portrait of a Family. Mr. Mock received an A and earned 3 college credits for his work.

Michael K. Cooke
Instructor, Santa Ana College, Santa Ana, California
Santa Ana Jail Facility

714-245-8100

EXHIBIT C

SANTA ANA COLLEGE
SCHOOL OF CONTINUING EDUCATION
RANCHO SANTIAGO COMMUNITY COLLEGE DISTRICT

Certificate of Completion

This is to certify that

Travis Mock

has completed the college credit class in Sociology 112

Portrait of a Family

[Signature]

Instructor

December 12, 2006

Date

EXHIBIT D

SANTA ANA COLLEGE
SCHOOL OF CONTINUING EDUCATION
RANCHO SANTIAGO COMMUNITY COLLEGE DISTRICT

Certificate of Participation

This is to certify that

Travis Mock

has participated in a course of instruction in

A Framework for Recovery

- 30 HOURS -

Pat Coyne
Instructor

November 13, 2006

Date

Nancy Crook
Dean of Instruction and Student Services
School of Continuing Education

EXHIBIT E

SANTA ANA COLLEGE
SCHOOL OF CONTINUING EDUCATION
RANCHO SANTIAGO COMMUNITY COLLEGE DISTRICT

Certificate of Participation

Travis Mock

has completed 8 classes on instruction in Positive Life Attitudes - Substance Abuse

Luis Martinez
Instructor
Mr. Luis Martinez

November 6, 2006
Date

Nancy Brooks
Dean of Instruction and Student Services
School of Continuing Education